TAX EXEMPT CERTIFICATE
State of Connecticut Agency

Tax Exempt No. 06-0772160 UOC67000

The University of Connecticut is a governmental agency of the State of Connecticut. Connecticut General Statutes § 12-412(1) exempts the University from paying sales and use taxes on its purchases of services and tangible personal property in Connecticut provided that the services and property are used exclusively by the University for the purposes for which they are intended. The University's Sales Tax Exemption Letter and Certificate issued by the Connecticut Department of Revenue Services are located at <https://tax.uconn.edu/home/ct-state-taxes/>. As a qualifying governmental agency of Connecticut, the University is also exempt from paying sales and use tax on its purchases of services and property made in several other states that provide specific exemptions for governmental agencies and/or educational institutions. Please contact the University's Tax & Compliance Office with specific tax exemption questions at TaxCompliance@uconn.edu.

This notice is exclusively for use by authorized University of Connecticut Procurement Card Users.
