Due to COVID-19 and to ensure business continuity, University Business Services is making the following temporary policy/procedures changes with regards to utilization of the Pro-Card:

While most UConn employees are now working remotely, it is understood there may be a need for low-dollar, educational and research supply-type purchases to be shipped to remote work locations.

Employees, with supervisor approval, may purchase necessary supplies related to furthering education and research, using the following methods in priority order:

1. HuskyBuy – If the supplies are available in HuskyBuy then this is the preferred method where you will be able to enter a remote work location. Any items requiring a ship to location outside of UConn will be reviewed by Procurement. See instructions here.

2. Pro-Card
   a. If the supplies are not available in HuskyBuy then a Pro-Card may be utilized as an alternate purchase method and shipped to a remote work location within CT with documented approval from your supervisor. Any purchases using the Pro-Card with shipments to a remote work location require an approval from the Pro-Card Administrator prior to purchase. Instructions on how secure this approval can be found here.
   b. Keep in mind that the purchase of office furniture and equipment, computers, laptops, IPads, copiers, and scanners are not considered low-dollar, educational and research supplies and require a documented pre-approval from your supervisor and review and approval from the Pro-Card Administrator and may be subject to further review by the AVP of University Business Services and AVP & Controller. Instructions on how secure this approval can be found here.
   c. Using the Pro-Card for University-related purchases represents the University’s trust in you and your empowerment as a responsible employee of the University to safeguard and protect our assets. The Cardholder, Supervisor and Fiscal Officer assume the responsibility for the protection and proper use of the Pro-Card that will be subject to post-review by the AVP & Controller’s Office, University Business Services and Internal Audit.

3. Employee reimbursements – This method should be used as a last resort where HuskyBuy or Pro-Card cannot be used. If this method is used then the procedures under Pro-Card apply with the exception of having the pre-approval attached to the DV in KFS or expense report in Concur.

Employees, Supervisors and Fiscal Officers are expected to use best-judgment and reason and continue to be good stewards of University resources during this unusual time.
